COUNTY CAMPAIGN FOR BETTER ROADS

SUPERVISORS AND CITIZENS JOIN IN THE MOVEMENT AND WILL WORK FOR SUCCESS.

Campaign of Education Will Be Inaugurated for Bond Election to Be Held December 16th.

The campaign for better county roads was launched at an adjourned meeting of the Board of Supervisors Monday at which there were representatives from every section of the county as well as Supervisors McEvoy, Brown, Casey and Francis. Manager Fuller of the San Mateo County Development Association stated that at the direction of the Board of Supervisors he had issued invitations to twenty-one citizens, notifying them of their appointment as a committee to advise with and assist the Board of Supervisors in the good roads movement. The clerk called the roll of the twenty-one appointees and the following responded as present: Judge Fitzpatrick and L. P. Behrens, Redwood City; John T. Scott, Hillsborough; George L. Perham, San Bruno; M. B. Johnson, Moss Beach; E. E. Cunningham, South San Francisco; Henry Gelfuss, Colma; Ellis Johnson and Edward Freyer, Daly City.

James McCormick, Pescadero; Dr. C. L. Morgan, Halfmoon Bay; John T. Flynn, San Mateo. Mr. Fuller stated that while all of the committee was not present, none had refused to serve and he believed that nearly the whole of the twenty-one appointees would act with the board.

The proceedings opened with a stirring address by Judge Cunningham in which he dwelt on the value of good roads to the county. The need of better highways was conceded and properly managed he believed there would be but little opposition to the bond issue necessary to give the people better roads. There were a number of things to be settled before presenting the matter to the people. Some of the incorporated towns through which the Camino Real runs were hesitating about giving their roadway over to the county to be built by the Board of Supervisors, the State Highway Commission having refused to construct the State highway within the limits of the cities. The reason of this hesitation is the possible difficulties that may result to the cities, having once surrendered jurisdiction over any part of their streets. This is one question that needs to be settled and fully explained to the people before the bond election is called. He anticipated but little opposition among the voters, but care must be taken to frame the subject perfectly and avoid any opposition.

Dr. Morgan of Halfmoon Bay thought that if the cities surrendered their streets to the county for the completion of the State highway there would be no obstacle in the way of the city authorities excavating them when necessary for the purpose of laying sewers or water mains. The same permission would be granted by the supervisors for that purpose as is given for the opening of county roads, with the proviso that they be restored to their former good condition. Dr. Morgan thought that the campaign for the bond issue should be begun at once and that the election should be held a month after the general election.

L. P. Behrens said that it is well understood that the county needs better roads. The people must be informed as to what kind of roads they are to get, what they will cost and what the tax rate will be. He suggested that the committee get together as soon as possible and start the educational movement.

M. B. Johnson and John H. Flynn voiced Mr. Behrens' sentiments in regard to immediate organization and the opening of the campaign of education.

Supervisor Brown said that one important matter that should be settled early in the movement was to find out from the Attorney General if the position taken by the State Highway Commission in refusing to build the State highway through incorporated cities was properly taken. There were eight miles of such roads which were properly a part of the State highway.

Chairman McEvoy said that the details of the undertaking must be so completed that the advocates of the bond issue will be enabled to go before the people honestly and tell them just what they are to get for their money. We must keep our promises in every particular. He favored immediate action; there was no time to be lost if the county expected to have its roads before 1915. The people are showing an interest in the project and are already looking for information.

Judge Fitzpatrick, a late arrival at the meeting, accepted appointment as one of the committee and promised to give what assistance was in his power.

The committee then proceeded to organize by the election of L. P. Behrens as president and Ellis C. Johnson as secretary, after which the delegates and the Board of Supervisors went into joint session.

A discussion was had as to the most suitable day on which to hold the election. Judge Johnson of Daly City and John T. Flynn of San Mateo favored Saturday as being most suited to the working men, but Judge Fitzpatrick raised the point that Saturday was a holiday in some respects and bonds voted on that day might not be acceptable to the buyers.

Mr. McEvoy suggested that the election be held November 12th, giving as his reasons that time was valuable and an early start should be made.

Casey thought it would be better to wait until the after-election wounds had healed. He favored a date about the middle of December.

It was finally decided to hold the election on December 16th, and the district attorney was directed to prepare the election call for that date.

It was decided to appeal to the district attorney for an opinion as to the legality of the position taken by the State Highway Commission in refusing to build the State road through the incorporated cities. By applying to the district attorney through the supervisors the matter may be more readily presented to the attorney general.

Judge Cunningham moved that a committee of five be appointed to handle this matter and also to confer with the municipalities regarding the transfer of their streets to the county should such a step be necessary to complete the State highway.

Surveyor Newman gave a description of roads that it was proposed to improve. He said that in some instances the present rights of way would be abandoned for better grades and it was his opinion that new rights of way could be secured without cost.

Blackburn objected to the elimination of the road leading from Pescadero to the county line. He said that the Santa Cruz authorities were building north to meet this road with a view to constructing a boulevard to the San Francisco line. He would guarantee that all necessary rights of way would be provided without cost.

The surveyor said that the road mentioned had been eliminated because of the great cost of making it, there being no known suitable rock deposits in that neighborhood.

Blackburn asked that he be given the services of the surveyor at an early date in an endeavor to find suitable rock, and his request was granted.

It was also ordered that the road from Pescadero to the county line be included in the list of roads to be built.

In accordance with the motion previously made Chairman Behrens appointed the following committee to investigate the building of the State highway through the incorporated cities: Edw. F. Fitzpatrick, Dr. C. L. Morgan, M. B. Johnson, Dr. C. L. Morgan and E. M. Moore. The meeting then adjourned to again meet with the supervisors on Tuesday, August 6th.

OFFICIALS A-FISHING GO, AND THEY FEED THE FISH

A crew of gallant mariners, gathered from various sections of the county, went out on the briny deep at Halfmoon Bay Saturday in quest of fish. They were chaperoned by Joe Francis and it is said that they had the best of luck as far as the fishing was concerned, but disaster overtook the party in the form of seasickness. It broke out among them like a pestilence. They were far out on the sea and the boat had to make frequent trips to the shore to land the disabled members of the crew. It is reported that all of them were sick but this is denied by the sailors in charge of the craft. Among the party were Frank Swart, Joe Francis, Wm. Brown, M. F. Brown, Jas. T. Casey, H. O. Heiner, E. W. Florence, Geo. Dodge and Dan Patton.

Injured by Bicycle Rider.

Mrs. Rinehold Milde, a middle-aged woman who resides on Jefferson street, was run into by a careless bicycle rider Tuesday morning and thrown violently to the pavement, sustaining serious injuries. She is under the care of Dr. Ross and yesterday was reported to be somewhat improved. City Marshal Coleman will rigidly enforce the ordinance prohibiting riding on the sidewalks, and violators of the law will be heavily fined.

COUNTY SUPERVISORS HOLD SHORT SPECIAL MEETING

The Supervisors met in adjourned session Monday, there being present P. H. McEvoy presiding, Wm. H. Brown, Jas. T. Casey and Jos. M. Francis.

George Roussel of Belmont made a complaint on behalf of his neighbors of the actions of an organization at that place known as the "Belmont Water Committee." Recently this committee has secured a water service from the Spring Valley Company, laying its mains along Ralston avenue to Redwood school and was having water delivered at the residences of its five members.

Residents of Belmont were permitted to make connection with the main line but were charged an exorbitant price for such privilege. Mr. Roussel thought that the board should have control over such utilities and he appealed to it to intervene on behalf of the residents of Belmont.

Brown moved that the matter be referred to the District Attorney. The motion was seconded by Casey and carried.

George C. Ross addressed the board in reference to a claim amounting to $300 alleged to be due the county, for fees collected by ex-Sheriff Chatham. Mr. Ross stated that Mr. Chatham had a claim of an equal amount against the county. He asked that the matter be submitted to arbitration.

The district attorney said that Mr. Chatham's claim was outlawed but, personally, he was willing to waive the law and have the claim considered.

As the matter is in Mr. Swart's hands the board took no action.

RAILROAD PROJECTORS SEEKING LOCAL SUPPORT

Three representatives of the Fresno-Coalinga railroad, an organization that is aiming to build an electric road from Fresno to San Francisco, were in this city yesterday and met the executive committee of the Board of Trade, which body gave the enterprise its endorsement.

The company already has rights of way from Fresno through Monterey county and into Santa Clara county as far as Agnews. It proposes to follow the marsh.

The railroad men stated that they would be in this neighborhood for several days this week. It is understood that they represent a rich corporation.

A MORAL OBLIGATION.
While it is true that under the strict letter of the Constitution a member of the Electoral College has the right to cast his vote for whom he pleases for President and Vice President, there should not be the slightest doubt as to the vote of any presidential elector. By an unwritten law, which by long recognition has become as sacred as the written constitution, an elector is morally bound to cast his vote for the nominee of the national convention of the party by which he is elected as a representative. From the time of the formation of political parties—and that means from almost the time of the adoption of the Constitution providing for the Electoral College—this unwritten law has been a sacred mandate, one which no elector has ever had the hardihood to violate. In all the political history of our country, no elector has ever yet presumed to cast his vote for other than the nominee of the national convention of his party.

So thoroughly has this unwritten law of our political system been recognized that state organizations of the great national parties have not, in many instances, considered it necessary to await the selection of a nominee by the convention to name the men who shall act as representatives in the casting of their vote. In many states it has been the custom frequently to name the candidates of the party for electors in advance of the national convention, it being taken for granted that the man named as the candidate of the party will receive their votes.

For the first time in the history of the country, a disposition has arisen to question the binding force of this unwritten law. In some of the states Republican electors were named prior to the assembling of the national convention at Chicago. Some of these electors were at the time of their selection, and are now, ardent supporters of Mr. Roosevelt, and it has been announced that some of these men propose, if elected, to cast their ballots for their personal choice. In defense of this desertion of party principle and defiance of moral obligation, these men are making the shallow argument that in their opinion the convention was not a fairly conducted one.

The question of the conduct of the national convention is not one that enters into the argument at this time. The fact is that Mr. Taft is the nominee of that convention, and as such is the nominee of the Republican party. As electors of the Republican party they have but one course and that is to cast their vote for Mr. Taft. No matter what they may think of the method of his nomination, the fact stands that he is the nominee—and the ONLY nominee—of the Republican party. If in their opinion they cannot vote for Mr. Taft for president, there is one, and only one, honorable course open to them, and that is to decline before the election to serve as electors for the party.

Should Mr. Roosevelt be nominated for president, he certainly will not be the nominee of the Republican party. His party will certainly be known by some other name, will stand upon some other platform than that announced by the Chicago convention. No man of honor selected as an elector on the Republican ticket can do otherwise than cast his vote for the nominee of the Republican party—William Howard Taft.

A NOTE OF WARNING.
The first half of Senator Root's speech as the temporary chairman of the Chicago national convention was the routine performance of a partisan politician, such as any republican hack campaign orator might deliver, remarks the Salinas Index. The last half was the utterance of an able statesman standing firmly on the basic principles of the Constitution and of a government of checks and balances.

"We will keep the covenant that our fathers made, and that we have reaffirmed from generation to generation, between the whole body of the people and every individual under national jurisdiction," declared Senator Root. It was an appeal to the common sense of the American people: A plea for a constitution that is "a covenant between power and weakness," for an independent and courageous judiciary; for a government of law and order, of liberty and prosperity. In these ideals Senator Root pledges his unshaken faith in the face of the clamor of demagogic agitators who seek to subvert the American democracy.

No more solemn warning has been made to the people of this country to reject insane counsels prompted by inordinate personal ambition and to be on their guard against demagogues who seek power by destroying the safeguards of the republic. "Whoever rejects it," proclaims Senator Root, of this government of constitutional checks and limitations, "does of necessity fly to anarchy and challenge despotism."

The store on the corner of Stambaugh and Main Street, will be opened the first of August 1912. Fruits, Vegetables and imported groceries from Italy, of all kinds. By L. Deluchi & Son.

THE MAN FOR THE PLACE.
With the almost certain probability that within the next year San Mateo county will undertake an extensive system of road construction, the office of Supervisor becomes one requiring special qualifications. While it is essential that the incumbent should be a man of sterling integrity, it is equally important that he should be a practical and experienced mechanic. Without a thorough knowledge of the practical requirements of this class of work, thousands of dollars may be lost to the tax payers by the best intentioned official.

We know of no man in the county who so fully measures up to these requirements as does John MacBain of Menlo Park, who will undoubtedly receive the Republican nomination for Supervisor from the third district. A resident of the county for practically a lifetime, his integrity has never been questioned. A practical mechanic of many years experience, he can be safely depended upon to secure permanent results from the money expended.

A COMMENDABLE RECORD.
If faithful service in office counts for anything—and it is generally conceded that it should—Henry Ward Brown is justly entitled to re-nomination as the candidate of the Republicans of San Mateo county for Assemblyman. During a long term in the Legislature Mr. Brown has maintained a splendid record, both for devotion to the interests of his constituents and the principles of the party to which he claims ad-herence. Thoroughly progressive, in every true sense of that term, he has proven himself sufficiently well balanced to avoid the errors of the ultra-faddist. While the Republican party contains within its ranks many good men, certainly no better or more popular selection could be made. It seems more than a safe prediction that Mr. Brown will be given the nomination and that after the nomination his election will be a question of the size of the majority.

COLMA MAN A CANDIDATE.
Hugh C. Rodgers, a popular resident of Colma, has concluded to make a canvass of the first township for Supervisor on the Republican ticket and on Wednesday filed his nominating petition with the County Clerk. Mr. Rodgers is an excellent gentleman, with a strong following in the north end of the county, and should he secure the Republican nomination will make a formidable candidate for the office.

He is a granite cutter by trade and is very popular with all the labor unions. Mr. Rodgers possesses all the necessary qualifications to fill the position of supervisor with credit to himself and his constituents. He proposes to make a clean canvass and a vigorous one.

"GREATER SAN FRANCISCO"
"GREATER GRAFT" SCHEME

The so-called "Greater San Francisco Consolidation Association" organized for the express purpose of partitioning four neighboring counties, San Mateo, Marin, Alameda and Contra Costa, and absorbing their wealthier and more populous and commercially developed communities, has filed with the Secretary of the State of California, a series of petitions circulated for the signatures of voters by its hired agents in various counties, at a stated commission of so much per name, for the placing in the ballot at the general election in November next, an "initiative measure to be submitted directly to the electors" under the constitutional initiative amendment recently adopted at the last general state election. The petition contains the text of a proposed amendment to section 7 of article XI, of the State Constitution, relating to the formation of consolidated city and county governments, and providing "for the merging and consolidating of contiguous territory of two or more cities, or cities and counties or counties, or any part of any county or counties, containing in the aggregate within the proposed merged consolidated territory a population of at least 350,000 into one consolidated city and county government."

On the face of the proposed constitutional amendment two cities in the state apparently come under its operation, namely, Los Angeles and San Francisco. In fact, it meets the existing conditions in only one city, San Francisco; and it has been expressly worded for its sole and special benefit. It is therefore, strictly special legislation for Los Angeles is capable of expanding under the present constitution, without crossing the boundary lines of contiguous counties.

The proponents of the proposed amendment claim that it makes possible the expansion of San Francisco into four contiguous counties, and the merger into one municipality, to be known as Greater San Francisco, of all of the populous cities on both shores of San Francisco Bay; the centralization of municipal government; the amalgamation of all municipal properties, and commercial interests; increased prestige at home and abroad, reduced cost of government, and a greater capacity for mutual development.

On these grounds the proponents of the proposed amendment base their appeal to the electors of the State for its adoption. For a number of years the proposed amendment to the constitution is opposed by those representing the seven prosperous and progressive cities located in Alameda and Contra Costa counties, on the eastern shore of San Francisco bay, on the following grounds:

1: It aims to destroy a natural boundary created by a broad sheet of navigable water whose shorelines are from six to ten miles apart, a physical union of which is practically impossible.

2: It proposes to absorb the east bay shore cities, extinguish their political autonomy and identity, appropriate their properties, the control of their commercial water fronts and the costly improvements which are being made by them thereon, at their own expense, transfer their revenues to San Francisco for that city's sole benefit; make commercial competition, where by the State at large may be benefited, impossible, in order to perpetuate the commercial monopoly which that city has maintained against the general interests of the interior of the State, for its self enrichment forever sixty years.

3: It proposes that the bonding powers which these cities now possess, and which are being intelligently employed for their self-improvement and for the greater and more economical advantage of the State, shall be diverted and applied for the special development of costly schemes of public works, in San Francisco in which the communities to be absorbed in the proposed Greater San Francisco will have no direct or indirect interest.

4: The measure will make possible the attempt at least, to saddle on the east bay shore cities and other communities in contiguous counties contemplated to be absorbed in the proposed Greater San Francisco, the burden of approximately one half the enormous authorized but as yet unused, bonded debt of San Francisco. The audacity and magnitude of this proposition are shown in the following statement of the present status of San Francisco's bonded indebtedness.

Assessor Dodge's official valuation of property for municipal taxation in 1912-13, $511,194,545.
Bonding capacity of San Francisco, (15 per cent) $76,679,175.
Bonds outstanding and uncanceled (official) $48,981,000.
Excess over bonding capacity, $8,301,825.
Bonds issued and unredeemed (official) present actual valid debt, $22,179,300.
Bonds authorized, but not a municipal debt until issued (official) $62,801,700.
The proposed initiative amendment to the constitution provides that "the merged city and county shall be liable for the existing debts and liabilities of the county or counties included in whole or in part in such new consolidated city and county" and that the same shall be liable for "the existing debts and liabilities of any municipal corporation merged therein," that "the payment of all outstanding bonds of such municipalities respectively shall be a debt of the merged city and county at the time of such consolidation."

The opponents to the proposed amendment therefore, urge on the electors of the State to vote against it on the following grounds:

1: That its adoption paves the way for San Francisco with a population of 800,000 to dominate the politics of the State, and become a menace to its welfare.

2: That San Francisco's past history is no guarantee of honesty and economy in the administration of the government of a Greater San Francisco.

That the commercial control and monopoly of the shore of San Francisco bay and the absolute throttling of commercial competition in which the State is concerned generally, should not be made possible.

4: That the autonomy, progress and prosperity, commercial water fronts and improvements, revenues, and bonding capacity for self-development, should not be put in jeopardy or menaced with extinguishment, arrest and appropriation by the adoption of the proposed initiative amendment.

5: That the proposition to unload on these east bay shore communities the burden of San Francisco's debt and liabilities and its enormous authorized but unused bonded indebtedness through the adoption of the proposed initiative amendment, should appeal to the adoption of the proposed initiative State as an unparalleled outrage, the possible consummation of which cannot be justified or countenanced by them.
